Uma takes a vacation... from good taste!
Uma Thurman's entire look could be saved by swapping in a straw hat and a white tank top, according to fashion expert Danna Weiss. Not only is the shirt unflattering, the high neck looks fussy and constrained. And because her floppy hat is so busy, it would be next to impossible to pair it with anything, Weiss notes. If Uma is going to wear something this billowy on the bottom, she needs to balance it out with a lighter, skin-baring top.

Uma's winning look

Revealing dresses, like this Versace gown, look gorgeous on Uma.

This shirt puts the "no back" in kimono.

Supersized top
The proportions of Ashlee Simpson's outfit are all wrong. The shirt is too boxy and the pants are too large. She should pair fitted pants with a chiffon tunic, says Weiss.

strike out, but can these Oops! outfits be saved?

Truly toxic outfit

Britney Spears can afford nicer clothes, Weiss marvels. If she must wear the ugly scarf, she can lose the Aladdin vibe by tying it looser and wearing her hair down.

It's hospital
chic — two surgical masks
and a bed sheet.

9021-oh-no!

The top of Shannen Doherty's dress is a bad fit. Weiss says the cups should be brought closer together so they meet at the bust, not under her arms.

A record low

First, Patti LaBelle needs to lose the records. Then, Weiss suggests covering up the peekaboo panel and lowering the neckline for a hint of cleavage.
