Dripping in antique gems, groovy fringe and tiers of beaded silk, these five beauties know that fashion is all about fun. Their looks are always effortless and relaxed, but that doesn't prevent them from turning up the red-carpet-worthy glamour when the occasion arises.

"You have to walk into a room and believe in yourself. Feel it, own it, work it. Have some fun."

— Drew Barrymore

Drew Barrymore "What's fun about Drew is that she grew up with a Hollywood background and she doesn't take herself too seriously, which translates into her clothing," says celebrity stylist Danna Weiss of the 30-year-old actress-cum-producer, here in Versace. "She's not tied too deeply to anything she does. She's whimsical," adds Weiss.
